Photoshop does much more than alter the appearance of an image. While it is a powerful tool for editing, it comes with so many tools that can help a photographer take the best shot possible. In this guide, we will be discussing Photoshop's powerful features and what they can do for you as a photographer. We will also share some tips for using Photoshop that you can incorporate into your workflow that can make you a better photographer. Let's get started. Powerful Select Tools One of the most important features in Photoshop is the ability to select multiple areas of an image. This includes objects, parts of images, or even the backgrounds of images. A well-used tool for this kind of editing is the Magic Wand tool. This tool can select all similarly colored areas of an image for you and even correct the lighting of those areas. It works best when there is only one color in the image and the colors are well saturated. If there are a large number of colors or if the colors are dark or light, then the tool will not work as well. Another way to select similar areas is with the Magic Eraser. This tool can remove shadows and other areas that should not be in the image. The tool is great for removing the stripes from an image or removing the parts that were splattered on your favorite shirt when it was only supposed to be a background of your image. Powerful Select Tools has a variety of tools that can help you better select similar areas. Choose one or use all of them, it is your choice. Pro Features Image Processing There are plenty of tools that are available that can assist you with photo editing. Most are included in Photoshop and are very easy to learn. There are tools that can assist you with improving the sharpness of the image, changing the color balance of your image, correcting the lighting, cropping, and many more. Stay Awake "Stay Awake" is a song by the American alternative rock band Hole. Written by vocalist Courtney Love, it is the third single from their self-titled debut album, Hole (No. 57, US Hot 100). It was released as a 7" single and appeared on their second EP, Courtney vs. Megg, on their own label, Blabbermouth. Writing and recording The song is Love's explanation for her behaviour while the band was recording the album. Love says that it took her "a long time to let go of the bitterness of writing the song. Because at one point I did write 'Courtney against me'... and as soon as I realized what I was doing, I was, 'I can't let go of that!' Because at one point I did feel that much pain." She later added, "The reason 'Courtney against me' was written was because I felt like the fans were always on my side, so I decided to write a song that said, 'I'm sick and tired of all this support.' And then I thought, 'Oh, shit, now I've created my own monster.' Now that I've written it, I just feel like it's all about me and not what I want, and it's my own music and I can't stop it." Music video The video for the song was directed by Love herself. Shot in Los Angeles, it depicts her character waking up in the morning and watching herself on TV. Reception According to Inc. magazine, the song has been listed as one of the best hard rock songs of all time by many publications. Rolling Stone called the track "the closest thing to a Doors song on Hole's eponymous debut", giving it 4 out of 5 stars. Melody Maker said the song was "an outstanding opening track, a substantial rock song, a bellow". Uncut magazine said it "pisses on the guitar violets for blood and roars to a forceful conclusion that would have made the Who proud". British magazine Mojo said it was "intelligent and witty. A nasty little track that spits at the world from a compromised position... [t]he songs are not longer than they need to be, but they are very singable, and they are brutally honest, saying exactly what they mean, no more, no less." Wrote Spin, "Hole unleashes a crushing three-

The views over the mountains are just stunning and the food is excellent. A really special meal that we will remember forever. This is one of the best restaurants that we have been to in Europe. In fact it was pretty close to being the best so I am going to have to confess that we actually dropped into a couple of the others and we have all been very disappointed. If you want to go somewhere special book it straight away. We have had the best coffee and the best cake and brownies and the best service. We have been back several times with family and friends since and it is always the same. I was a little worried by the menu not having the usual things like duck, steak and turkey on offer for example. But it was more than worth it.
