

Every motion, interaction and line of play is computer-generated from the player's capture data, and are completely unique to every player. The new system ensures that every decision made by the game's AI relies on the data from high-intensity action, not replays, which creates a match more closely resembling the real game. "FIFA has always had a strong focus on developing and optimizing the game for realism. From introducing environmental dynamics, to the successful launch of Ultimate Team, we've learned how important the interactions between player and environment can be for creating a powerful player experience," said David Rutter, FIFA Lead Producer. "We were excited to be able to bring Real Player Motion to FIFA. With the newly introduced Dynamic Player Trajectories and HyperMotion Technology, we are delivering a football game that is incredibly realistic, and authentically reflects the laws of physics." "For the first time, we've created a complete solution, which aims to deliver the most realistic football player experience on any platform," said Sean O'Connor, EA Sports Senior VP & GM. "The continued support from our Lead Producer David Rutter and Technical Director Paul Boyer has been invaluable, and we're excited to deliver a game that exceeds the expectations of soccer players around the world." HyperMotion Technology FIFA 22 uses a new engine and physics system, Dynamic Player Trajectories, which combine a sophisticated AI driven by data from high-intensity action to allow each player to react and move accordingly in response to their teammates and opponents. The AI responds to the actions and decisions of the 22 real-life players and, as a result, are all unique to each player. The Dynamic Player Trajectories engine allows for realistic player movements throughout the duration of a match, including changes to direction and speed. This dynamic AI is complemented by HyperMotion Technology, introduced with FIFA 16, which uses state of the art motion capture data to increase the level of player behaviours captured by the engine. "We have seen that the more data we have, the more accurate the animations," said Paul Boyer, FIFA Lead Technical Director. "The introduction of new data from FIFA 22's 'Real Player Motion' makes possible even more accurate player movements. The players are so adaptable that they can change direction in mid-move, which

With a new card collection system and a new star formation engine, FIFA Ultimate Team has never felt more alive. Put your playmaking skills to the test in tactical, online, and offline game modes, where you can build your dream team by investing your hard-earned virtual cash in players from the world's biggest footballing nations. FIFA 18 Demo FIFA 18's Demo is now available on Xbox One and the game is the subject of the latest EA SPORTS WIRED TV interview, featuring Steven Gerrard, the captain of Liverpool FC. In the video, Gerrard discusses his decision to move to England, his new arrival in the Premier League and explains what he thinks FIFA has in store for its return. FIFA Ultimate Team - Player Career Mode New Premier League Expansion The Premier League is ready to welcome a new batch of European leagues into the FIFA game with a complete expansion of the UEFA Pro League. As the newest addition to the global football repertoire, the clubs from the Italian region of Emilia-Romagna - Bologna, Carpi, Cesena, Forlì, Modena and Piacenza - will join the Italian Serie A. This league, which will have a total of 30 clubs, will make its debut in FIFA 20. In total, there will be about 80 different clubs, or NFL divisions, on five continents, with the next FIFA 18 Demo expanding the game's player pool to include 32 MLS teams. More Coaches The newly-designed FIFA Coaches system now includes a greater range of international expertise, with the addition of a new category of coach: UEFA Pro Coaches. Coaches from this new category are capable of coaching any team in the game, including members of the UEFA Pro League. Included in FIFA Ultimate Team will be top coaches from the UEFA Pro League, such as David Moyes, Pep Guardiola and Sir Alex Ferguson. New UEFA Pro League Kit Following an extensive design process, we have created FIFA 18's very first official kit, which will be available to teams in the UEFA Pro League. The new kit was based on feedback from clubs and players around the world to really enhance the in-game experience. The new denim print is designed to showcase the unique characteristics of each team's blue-and-white jerseys. Juventus have a strong presence in the new kit, with the Juventus design showing on the front of the jersey, while Bologna

What's new:

- FIFA 22 introduces "HyperMotion Technology," which uses motion capture data collected from 22 real-life players playing a complete, high-intensity football match in motion capture suits. The data collected from player movements, tackles, aerial duels and on-ball actions is used to power FIFA 22 gameplay.
- To intensify the competition, FIFA 22 takes its ball-ball physics to the next level with physics-driven no-tackle gameplay. Every shot, save, and pass picks up momentum as your foot touches the ball down and if you're skilled enough, you can even use it to control the ball's trajectory in mid-air. And the best part about our ball-ball physics? No tackles. The best players in the world have never been more lethal.
- As you progress through the game, you'll need to fine tune your skills against an ever-growing collection of competition kits, featuring licensed designs from the world's top brands. There is more to your collection than your classic team of national team jerseys, though. You'll also be able to collect more player cards from your club kits, promotional cards, classic cards, and more.
- Press Interaction returns with a fresh new look. New-generation pitch equipment now includes tracking systems that respond to your touch. Play through an action-packed match in 3D, on the pitch or the couch, with physical force feedback that reacts to your touch. It all adds up to a game that is more immersive than ever before.
- Even more National Managers, with more ways to manage your squads than ever before. Whether you're micromanaging or overseeing all the action from the bench, FIFA 22 gives you more ways than ever before to manage your team. From new player arrival notifications, to your Pro and Friend scouting reports, to the way you record formations, we've packed in plenty of options to better manage your club than ever before.
- Genuine authentic league conditions return in a more intense Competition mode that features more formalized gameplay settings, where advancing up the league table has greater meaning and competition with more people playing is on a bigger scale
