With easy access to numerous on-screen controls, users will be able to perform all operations without any hassle and will be able to manage databases efficiently and effectively. It will offer a wide variety of features such as database instant creation, browsing through columns, functions, objects and even a vast history log, all within a centralized frame. The application will even provide the means of searching for needed database objects. The updated Apache OpenOffice 4 has been released, and it boasts several new features and enhancements. These allow users to achieve a better working environment and make more reliable operations. Among them, the new Encryption plug-in makes sure users are protected against unauthorized data access. Unfortunately, there are other drawbacks involved with the new software. Not everyone is happy with the new version, and the reason is obvious: The interface has been changed a lot. This can make the user experience quite uncomfortable, and makes it harder for the user to get used to the new operating system. There is also a large list of features that were left out. This includes the virtual machine component, which is interesting for those who work with OpenOffice on Mac OS. These and other issues and changes have to be taken into consideration by OpenOffice users, and a few critical bugs should be highlighted as well. The biggest problem is the update that has recently been made. The automatic update feature has been changed from a warning to an error. This should not happen, especially if the software has been downloaded from the official Apache OpenOffice page. The other problem is that the popular OpenOffice Help has not been updated for several years. The new version also does not offer a Video Maker, which means that some users will be unable to import any audio or video files into their new system. Those who wish to access the official Apache OpenOffice website can follow the instructions on the page to download the new version. At the time of writing, the new software was not available for download on the official page, but we will update this as soon as it is available. If you do not want to rely on the automatic updates, you can download the new version directly from the link below. The download is about 615 MB, but as always, we strongly advise you to use a torrent or other download software to do the job faster. How to update Apache OpenOffice 4.0.2 b7e8fd5c8
