Elden Ring crack (English) Full Version :Identification of metallothionein isoforms in human thyroid follicular cell lines. Thyroid follicular cell lines (MTHFR-201.1, MTHFR-201.2, FRTL-5 and FTC-133) were examined by radioimmunoassay for metallothionein isoforms. The three-dimensional structures of these isoforms were studied by gradient sodium dodecyl sulfate-polyacrylamide gel electrophoresis and isoelectric focusing. The M(r) of the isoforms was determined by gel filtration, and the pI was determined by isoelectric focusing. Radiolabeled recombinant proteins were used as antigens and antibodies were produced in sheep and rabbits. The MTHFR-201.1 cells contained a metallothionein which was demonstrated by radioimmunoassay to be similar to rabbit metallothionein, and by gradient gel electrophoresis to be a protein with an M(r) of approximately 13,000, and a pI of approximately 4.8. The MTHFR-201.2 and MTHFR-201.2 cells contained a 12-kDa metallothionein not detected by radioimmunoassay. The metallothionein from the FRTL-5 cells had an M(r) of approximately 13,000, a pI of approximately 4.8
